UPTOWN MARBLE THEATER

Saturday February 4th 8pm

Redd Volkaert

Redd Volkaert was a 2004 Grammy Nominee for best Country Instrumental Performance.

Volkaert is best known to country audiences as being the lead guitarist since 1997 for Merle Haggard's band the Strangers. Prior to that in the '90s, he had done sessions in Nashville for artists like Ray Price, Clinton Gregory, Dale Watson, and Lacy J. Dalton. In the late '90s, Volkaert also began a career as a solo artist with Telewacker. In 2001, No Stranger to a Tele followed, with a satisfyingly diverse mix of country swing, hot instrumentals with steel guitar, and vocal numbers in the Bakersfield-honky-tonk tradition.

Tickets are $15 advance, $18 at the door, and $20 for limited reserved table seating in front of the stage. Tickets are available online at www.uptownmarble.com, at the R-Bar & Grill, 904 3rd St, and by calling 830-693-9996. Call the Theater to order Table Seating.
